RCC Holdings Corp. (PINKSHEETS: RCCH) announces that a signed agreement is to proceed with a joint venture with Evolu-tech, Ltd, of Montreal, Quebec, Canada.

Evolu-tech supplies advanced filtration equipment for its many customers and adds a necessary water purification dimension to the RCC/IWS wastewater treatment business. This will allow IWS to bid for the entire combination of water and wastewater services on any given project. The joint venture is expected to address both the domestic U.S. and international market places. For further information on Evolu-tech, go to www.evolu-tech.ca.

About International Wastewater Systems:

International Wastewater Systems specializes in community wastewater treatment systems. International Wastewater Systems, Inc. was formed in 1993 in response to the wastewater treatment challenge posed by the enactment of the stricter water quality laws implemented in the 1980s. International Wastewater Systems set as a goal the development of wastewater treatment technologies that would significantly surpass the standards enacted by those laws, thereby not only preserving, but improving water quality.
